49. Poem Paragraph

b)

Title: Manliness

Poet: Rudyard Kipling

Theme: Portrays the various qualities of manliness

Rudyard Kipling talks about the qualities of manliness. We should not always live in a dream world. We should not get lost in thoughts. Action is more important than dreams. Success and defeats are like impostors. They come and go in everybody's life. We should treat them alike. We may lose physical strength but we should hold on to our aim with a will. We should not give up our aim. If we work hard, we will succeed; the earth will come under our control.
